

PUBLIC POLICY & NUCLEAR THREATS BOOT CAMP 2014

JULY 6 - 16, 2014

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO

THE PUBLIC POLICY & NUCLEAR THREATS BOOT CAMP IS A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH TO BRIDGING SCIENCE AND PUBLIC POLICY. JOIN OTHER GRADUATE STUDENTS FOR 10 DAYS OF LECTURES, DISCUSSION, AND SIMULATION EXERCISES WITH NUCLEAR SCIENCE AND POLICY EXPERTS FROM ACADEMIA, NATIONAL LABS, GOVERNMENT, AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

The Public Policy & Nuclear Threats boot camps address important issues in nuclear policy while providing an understanding of the scientific foundations that inform them. The program aims to give participants the necessary knowledge and analytic tools to contribute to the debate on future nuclear policy.

Participants will learn from distinguished researchers, academics, policy officials, and operational specialists from leading universities, national laboratories, the International Atomic Energy Agency, and federal government agencies dealing with nuclear threats, detection sciences, nonproliferation strategies, energy policy, and other nuclear issues.

- + GAME THEORY
- + ARMS CONTROL
- + DETERRENCE THEORY
- + HISTORY OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS COMPLEX
- + NUCLEAR NONPROLIFERATION REGIME
- + NUCLEAR TRIAD
- + INTERNATIONAL NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS
- + US NUCLEAR SECURITY POLICY

NEXT STEPS

NSSC students should contact Alina Sari (alina_sari@berkeley.edu) and provide the following:

- PPNT Program attendance confirmation by February 28, 2014.
- One-paragraph biographical statement and photo by March 31, 2014.
- Travel Itinerary by March 31, 2014.

Please note: travel plans should be arranged with home institutions. UC Berkeley students should contact Alina Sari for more guidelines.

TRAVEL AND LODGING

Course tuition and materials, shared apartment-style UC San Diego lodging, and on-campus meals will be provided. On-campus lodging is in The Village West at Torrey Pines in Conference Plus Housing. Check-in is at 3 pm on July 6th at The Village Conference Service Center ("The Village CSC"), located on the UC San Diego campus at The Village at Torrey Pines West, Building 2, Administration Office. A welcome dinner will be served at 6 pm. A final reception will take place on July 16th at 3 pm. Guests must check-out from The Village West by July 17th.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are provided at Café Ventanas during the bootcamp.

Travel will be supported by your home institution. Please consult the NSSC Travel Guide for more information and direct any questions to Alina Sari. Purchases that are not reimbursable are outlined in the NSSC Travel Guide.

igcc.ucsd.edu

